

Dragon Naturally Speaking Standard 9.0

Last modification: 04/10/2008
Author: André Caroline, EESP
Approximate price: 100€
Type: Software

Drank:

This software makes it possible to write launch programs, to create, to publish documents and to control the office by the sound of its voice. In a few minutes, it is possible to dictate documents, modify the syntax of sentences by the order "select" and to format by simple orders like "bldfacing".

The words can be transcribed in almost all the windows applications, including the programmes of email such as Outlook, text processing like Word and internet like AOL.

Optimization:

To adapt Dragon Naturally Speaking to one's vocabulary is possible by making it auditer old written texts. It will locate there the words and the syntax of the sentencs used and will recognize them thus more easily when they are dictated.

The more the user speaks and the more the software is accustomed to its voice.

Characteristics :

Dictionnary: French; British English et American

260'000 words per dictionnary

With phonetic and accoustic models

Initialization: it is necessary to read a text lasting less than ten minutes for optimization
